THE LAST NEWS ATION.

The latest sensation of the New York Herold relative to rumored disagreements in the cabinet is given elsewhere. It will be received with large discount as emanating from a sheet entirely unscrupulous in gratifying its taste for startling rumore. ing from a sneet charlest functional in gratifying its taste for starting rumors. Loyal men, however, will very generally make this comment, that the country has no cabinet officers, nor generals, whose services can at all compensate for a sacrifice of principles in the conduct of the war. A cabinet officer so balanced should speedly kick the beam. We hope the rumor is a capard.

We publish the speech of Senator Cameller or the peninsula campaign, as Pinted in the Congressional Globe. It was discreted for the purpose of vindicating its Administration against the foul and also charges heaped upon it by the producty press, headed by the New York lead. The Great Reaper Trial at Dixon. THE TEST IN THE FIELD.

DERON, July 94, 102.

The trial of reapers commenced this moraing in a field about three miles from the city.

The grain is spring wheat, standing well, and will turn out from twelve to fifteen bushels per sere. The test, therefore, cannot be a severe one. All the machines have done well thus far, both the hand and self-rakers.

Several new cutries have been made to-day
ard nearly all of the machines have arrived.

The weather is fine and the attendance large.
The disposition to racing has absted, and the work is progressing in a mere rational manner, but we see the elements gathering for a race to morrow. It is useless to altempt a full report at this time since the system of trial is not well calculated to ald one in a rapid conclusion in the right direction.

For the purpose of putting an end to these malignant and lying assertions, which were poisoning the public mind and ment, compelled to speak out and lay the truth before the people. As a member of the Joint Committee on the Conduct of the War, he was in possession of the facts and documents. His speech is made up mainly of the sworn testimony of generals and other high officers; and he was authorized to use their testimony by vote of the War Committee—only one demurring.

race everywhere should rule the weaker and feehler peoples. Admit the principle of despotism, and its application has no limitation. The Americans of the Anglo-Exxon stock might reduce the Celts of whatever nationality to the condition of serfices, by a slight extension of Mr. Browning's principle, thus: "While Saxon men and Celtic men remain "logether, the relation of master and serf" is conductive to the greatest happiness of "both-sacea." Why not?

Mr. Browning's constitutional views in regard to confiscation and emancipation are his own, and, in obedience to the requirements of his oath, he must be permitated to isdulge them; but it is equally the privilege of the people of illinois to desire no man as their Senator who holds pinlons, even on constitutional law, as objectionable as Mr. Browning's are. They, like ourselves, have no personal quarrel with him. We believe in his sincerity and in his thorough loyalty, and we can only regret that he should not have discerned before he sought and acceptable the Senator.

Mr. Lincoln does not need any renewal of his political faith; he is sound on the fundamentals. But a resting spell of a fornight and a trip round his large circuit, would so thoroughly instruct him in the wants and wishes of the people that he would have thereafter no healtation in making war upon the peoples' plan, regardless how the self-constituted advisers who surround him might resist its adop-

Smart Trick.

The editor of the secession newspaper publishes a communication written by himself, signed "Observer," which begins thus: "Some days ago I addressed a note to the CHICAMO TRIBUNS, saking it for the proof that your paper is a secession organ," de.

We received the anohymous "note" referred to, and laughed heartily at the shallowness of the trick. The "note" was written on slips of paper of the shape that only editors use. It had all the ear marks of editorial palernity. Its punctuation, interlineations and style, all

Every person who is desirous of relsing a part or all of a company is at once granted facilities for so doing, limited to thirty days. There is no question that all will be accepted. Speech by Hon. B. S. Dickinson.
A ronsing war meeting was recently held in Binghamton. The Hon Daulel S. Dickinson was one of the principal speakers. He declared that the rebels and been treated too tenderly, and rejoiced that actual war was now to be under upon them. He said he was not only for specify and totally wiping out the rebellion, but the cause of it, so we would never have another. He was also is favor of conficating all the property of the rebels, "real, pernotal, and mixed." He said he would conficate their quadrupeds and their olgodenically their property of the rebels, "real, pernotal, and mixed." He said he would conficate their quadrupeds and their olgodenicals held their property of the rebels. The real property of the rebels, "real, pernotal, and mixed." He said the would conficate their ness, their asses, and all that is theirs.

He said he beging every means consistent with the rebellion and panish the rebels.

He deciared the rabel government to be composed of drunken politicians, thieves, and robbers, and denounced England in the severest terms for sympathizing with it. He appealed to every man to emilis in the Union armies who possibly could, and help to sustals the Government. He said the president was entitled to great genification, was contilled to great genification, was contilled to the support of every loyal citizen in the land. The escapade was undoubtedly the result of a concerted mevement between outside secasion sympathics; and the rebels within, and the whole affair was planned most systematically. Before the outbreak, parties were seen mysteriously skulking about in the Cottage Grove woods, who attracted attention by their studious efforts to avoid it. One of these parties was hailed by an officer, and replied by hurling a brick at him. He premptly replied with his revolver, but the party escaped without injury. The fence was assailed in its weakest part upon the western boundary, and scaled by means of ladders which the rebels had constructed out of their bunks. In their flight they were aided by one at least of the guards, who not only winked at their escape, but fled with them, leaving his uniform behind him. A portion only of the rebels joined in the attempt. They made a rush for the fence with their ladders. The guards gave the alarm. The long roll was sounded. The cannon was fired an a signal for distant patrols. The utmost excitement prevailed, but the prompt action of the soldlers prevented the entire success of the rebel programms. About thirty volleys were fired at the fugacions secrab, but unfortunately killing none of them. Fifteen certainly, and some say twenty or thirty, managed to effect their escape, three or four of whom were receptured yeaterday. The firing cooled their ardor, and the malcontents retained to their quarters. The complicity of ontable spartles was manifest even after the failure of the plan. Bignals were several limes heard at a distance, made with calls and whistles, but the strong guard prevented most dissistrously, carries with it a pointed most which it were insane not to heed. No stronger argument is needed for the immediate organization of a theorogh and effective Home Guard, not for show purpose, but ninute-men, ready for an emergency which may came to carry for an amergency which may came to carry for an emergency which may came to the temporation of a theorogh and effective Home Guard, no EVENING SESSION.

The Board mot at their rooms at the usual hour. There was no perceptible dimention in the interest or numbers which has characterized the meetings of the Board thus far. J. L. Hancock presided, and in a few sensible and well-timed remarks called the Board to order.

The following gentlemen were announced as the committee of twenty-five to wait upon the citizens outside of the Board of Trade, and solicit their subscriptions to the Fund.

Hon, I. N. Arnold being discovered in the room, and loud calls bring made for a speech, Mr. Arnold mounted the President's deak and addressed the Board enbatantially as follows:

During the six or seven months he had been above to have done in the pront of

The siliar also suggests the necessity of rooting out city secessionists. As long as they are permitted to preach their treason unreproved, to plot with the rebels, so long we shall be exposed to disturbances of this nature. It is a duty we owe not alone to ourselves but to our sens and brothers who are avenue instances of this character to which we may have to siliade.

Corrections.—In our issue of yesterday the name of one of the recruits enlisting from J. B. Shay's dry goods store-should have read, "A. Baskerville" instead of "Durktrille." In the Board of Trade Sittery "Class. A. P. Garoursey" should read "Class. A. P. Garoursey" should read "Trumbull D. Griffin." We do not wast these gallant young men to start out with wrong names. They are mittled to their right names, every syllable and letter.

A HANDSONE PROPOSITION.—Mrs. Johnson A Handsons Proposition.—Mrs. Johnson has proposed to the young men—those engaged in rading the five companies for the Board of Trade regiment under the anapiens of the Christian Association, that if they will appoint a committee to take sharge of the proceeds, she will give an fee Cream Festival in Brjan Hall, donating her services, the Ice Cream and other things necessary to perfect the arrangements. The proposal has been accepted and Mr. Bryan having donated the Hall, the affect will come of our Saturday. Hall, the affair will come off on Saturday evening next. Tickets will be for sale at the door of the Hall, at only ten cents. Mrs. J. is certainly entitled to great credit for her large heartedness. We trust that our citizens will-reversing the Scriptural maxim—lot tier hearts speak out of the abundance of their mouths upon this occasion.

Firm in Bridgeront.—The extensive scap factory of Brown Bros. at Bridgeort, was to-tally destroyed by fire last evening. The fire broke out in the lower story of the building agenis, in accordance with the spirit of the resolutions passed by the people on last Sat-arday night, be conveyed to Southern soil, where their sentiments will be welcome, and — a large two story wooden structure—from some unknown cause, and owing to the in-flammable nature of the contents, and the distance of the fire from the city, reduced it Decision lof the Court.

In reference to the cases which have for several days been before James B. Bradwell, E.q., Judge of the County Court of Cook county, and upon which he yesterday gave his decision, we are sent the following abstract.

THE TREASURY NOTE CASE.

ion, we present the following abstract:

On the 11th of July Mr. C. B. Far well tendered to the County Treasurer, gold to the amount of $150 in payment of $150 for county and town taxes. The Treasurer declined to receive the latter, and Bad brought an action to recover the amount due.

The Hon. Joseph Knox, State's Attorney, ceive the latter, and Bad brought an action to recover the amount due.

The Hon Joseph Knox, State's Attorney, appeared on behalf of the Treasurer, and in saking for judgment, stated that his opinion of the law was, that the United States treasury notes were a legal tender for coun'y and town taxes. He did not think they could be used in revent of State taxes, because the "Three or fenr" from the Times office! at the Twee for a few weeks. for of men or money to make. Three red thousand men are called for is a general feeling that the number of have been half a million. These must be forthcoming. The people, by individual and public action, offered liberal bounties and use enlistments are responding. But a not decieve ourselves. The summer not be passed in inaction. It will not o spend millions of money upon indete organizations of regiments and panies, continued in our home camps into the fall. Every man of the new should be in the field in early autumn. resent rate of enrollment this cannot one. What is needed is something that give a spur to enlistments; which ild remind volunteers that there is a tfixed. Manifestly this will be gained he announcement that after a given od, say August 15th, drafting well consecuting. Men would come ford cagerly, unwilling to lose at once the aty to volunteers, and the opportunity thoice in their company and regiment and the people of valuable time, and amy it should have in the field for the campaign. Time is everything to us.
